What to know about this kit:

Book a trip around the world with this social studies themed kit. Read the included books and then use the globe puzzle to find the different continents where the books took you on a journey through. "A Place Called Home" is a great book for globe trotting.

What can I do with this kit?

- Lift the flaps in "A Place Called Home" to learn about the different ways that people make their homes around the world and where they live
- Read "Home", a fun twist on the unique places that a home can be to people, both real and imagined. Where do you call home, and can you draw a picture of it?
- Using the globe, can you put the continents in the right places and then find where "Last Stop on Market Street", "Festival of Colors", and "Fry Bread" take place?
